Aparna Sharma

About Me

As a passionate, enthusiastic and results-driven entry-level Web Developer, I am excited to start my internship and career in the dynamic world of IT with AARK Global. Eager to learn and apply my foundational knowledge in web development technologies and a keen eye for design, I am eager to contribute my technical skills and innovative mindset to the dynamic team at AARK Global. Looking to use my strong research as well as creative skills in the field of web development. Ensuring that the work is readable, logically structured and accurate according to the guidelines. Furthermore, want to collaborate with other web developers to brainstorm effective web solutions.
